During his career with the Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office, Master Sergeant Cribb worked many different assignments while holding various ranks and titles. With each transfer a new radio number, the call sign used to identify oneself on the radio, is assigned to the employee. This started out with a new uniformed deputy being Unit 619 and at the end with 2810 being the Master Sergeant. These radio numbers will take you through the many assignments and various tales experienced during his more than three decades as a guardian of the community. From some of the worst cases of mass murders to accounts of the most humorous of comedies. The stories include smuggling cases, SWAT team actions, death investigation, and various types of obligations and duties required of law enforcement personnel. These recollections show a wide variety of the experiences of just one deputy as it takes you through a roller coaster of emotions. From humor to tragedy you will laugh at the craziness, cry over the horrible tales, become furious over the foolish actions of some people, experience frustrations over the lack of ability to prevent horrible results, and have satisfaction over the outcome of both the good and bad stories. From start to finish, The Emotions from a Badge: Tales from a Deputy Sheriff will take you through an amazing journey of the real life in a diverse community.
