In 1897, strange airships were seen in Western United States and the Texas area. One of these airships crashed in Aurora, Texas destroying a farmer's property. The community went to the rescue and cleaned up the crash site but the pilot did not survive. Even though the pilot seemed a little strange, the community accepted him as one of theirs and buried him in the town cemetery. After all these years, ufologists wonder if the airship was a flying saucer and the alien was from another world.
